Employees of Mandell & Co. Quit When Firm Refused to Agree to Terms—State Arbitration Board Tries to Bring About Settlement.

Members of the State Board of Arbitration are in session to-day discussing the difficulties between the master teamsters and their striking employees, with a view to ascertain the points on which a joint conference can be arranged.

Because of the threatened spread of the strike, one more firm losing its employees to-day, the board believes that immediate action is necessary to avert further controversies.

Sixteen employees of C. M. Mandell & Co., at the corner of First and B streets, South Boston, refused to take out their teams. Business Agents Tobin and Gillespie of Local No. 25 endeavored to secure an adjustment of the differences between the employer and his men, but were unsuccessful.

The only team that left the Mandell stable was a light canvas driven by Mr. Mandell himself.

COLT OPENS HEARING.
Master James B. Colt, appointed by the State Board of Arbitration, opened the hearing in the first session of the Supreme Court at 11 o'clock.

The Mandell teamsters are represented by J. J. Foley, while attorney Frederick A. Mandell is backing out for the striking teamsters. The hearing will continue through the week. If the master decides that the employees are not to be taken into their case he will recommend to Justice that the injunction should be dissolved. If he believes the merits of the complaint are eleven teamsters are affected by the strike, which started on April 22, and has been gradually spreading.

Other firms are expected to have difficulties moving their freight today when they try to have work done for the striking teamsters. They expect the officials of the union to be ordered to the police, and when they refuse discharge will follow.

One firm, it was rumored, would order its men to do the work of Mandell & Co. for a large wholesale grocery house. The men decided that the moment they were ordered to do the work they would leave.

Quiet reigned in South Boston today when the non-union men took their teams out of the stables and drove to the firm's place.

Police Commissioner O'Meara has been called out to have any disorderly men arrested.

Not a Mandell Team Out.
No team was moved out of the Mandell stable today, although all of the men entered there and awaited orders.

Business Agents Tobin and Gillespie had a long talk with Mr. Mandell. They were made to come to his apartment, and the men walked away.

Two reasons of why the men refused to work are given. One is that they are not paid as much as they were before the strike.

WHEAT SOARS; BULLS WILDLY DRIVE MARKET

CHICAGO, May 12.—With September wheat selling at $1.10 to $1.15, December at 96½ cents and $1 and July at 91½ to 92 cents, the bull market in that cereal today went sailing.

At the top of the gang the wheat price began a striking move of buoyancy and the price, cheered with bullheadedness, rapidly.

Continued reports of short supplies and green long damage came in to bolster the situation.

The price advanced more sensationally, July sold at 92 to 97, September at 96½ to $1.00, and December at 96½ to $1.00.

Flour closed Saturday July 91½, and September 88½.

English country markets were one shift higher all around. May, June and July were 2½ to 2½, and corn was 1½ higher.

Liverpool wheat prices at 1.30 p. m. were 2½ to 2½, and corn was 1½ higher.

Bartenders and Brewery Workers Vote to Back Striking Teamsters

BOSTON bartenders, numbering 2,400 men, entered into the strike situation at their meeting yesterday, when they voted that no liquors would be handled by them, either received or dispensed, which had been brought to their employers by non-union teamsters. They also voted moral and financial support to the Teamsters' Union.

Likewise the teamsters connected with Brewery Workers' Union, No. 29, voted not to do any work which had previously been done by members of Local No. 25.

Fought Over Dime; Arrested

A dispute over 10 cents resulted in the appearance of Francis LaBarriere of No. 28 Main street, Quincy, in the local court today, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon and maintaining a liquor nuisance at his home.

Francis LaBarriere, who narrowly escaped a jury twice at his yesterday was the complainant. He was a victim at the defendant's home and an argument arose between the latter claimed that two drunks had not been paid for. In the height of the dispute it is alleged that LaBarriere drew his gun and sent two, both police and wife of each man.

ORCHARD'S SAYS RUMOR

Reports of Strife Among Council for Defence as Haywood's Trial Resumes.

NEW VENUE SUMMONED

BRIDGE, Idaho, May 12.—Ranchers and statement will comprise the major portion of the jury that will determine the fate of William D. Haywood, on trial for the murder of John D. Starnes, Starnesburg, A. special name of the area from the remote districts of Ada County will be present when the court resumes its sessions at 2 p. m. today.

The usual crop of sensational rumors is being circulated, but the town remains quiet in the extreme. Reports that Orchard is losing his mind and may not be fit to testify on the stand, that the lawyers for the defense are quarrelling over venue, and that the jury is being tampered with, are the most common. The fact that the jury was sworn in at 10 o'clock, and that the trial resumed at 2 p. m., is a sign that the case is being handled with discretion.

"Orchard Well" McPartland. The statement that the prosecution secured a ten-thirty in subpoenaing James Kewin of Denver, acting secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, on the train route to Denver just before the trial was reached, has caused amusement here. Kewin declared just before starting home he would be back to take the stand in Haywood's behalf and would return just as soon as he could arrange his affairs here in Denver. He is willing to testify in all for the defense, and is willing to go to the state prison if he is found guilty. He claims the officials advocate searchlight publicity to bring about some sensational statements.

McPartland, the detective who secured the Orchard confession, spent several hours with the letter of the preliminary indictment. He declares Orchard is in excellent physical condition and will make a good witness.

Reports that two former members of the executive committee have agreed to go on the stand in substantiating portions of Orchard's story, have been denied. The only investigation now for sale to detect him was the one conducted by the state.

Prosecutor Confident. When the question was put squarely to Senator Borah, of counsel for the prosecution, today, he absolutely declined to discuss the subject. He said it has been agreed that nothing shall be made public as to the prosecution's case until the witnesses actually are sworn and take the stand.

"I can safely say this, however," continued Borah, "that we have much evidence that is not even expected by the other side."

I am firmly convinced we will be able to prove beyond the slightest doubt that Starnesburg was murdered on the stand in substantiating portions of Orchard's story, he said.

The judge made his return to Judge Wood in the latter's chambers today. It was that 100 witnesses had been served and all will be present when the opening session is held at 2 p. m.

While scores of children were playing in Bridge and Winter streets, East Cambridge, today, a runaway horse, owned by the property of Harry Korodinski, a junk dealer of No. 149 Willow street, dashed among them, driven by a man, the children right and left, running over Albert Gatten, aged four years, and leaving him so badly that he was taken to the Cambridge Relief Hospital.

The little boy was playing horse with George McElwain, aged five years, and James McElwain, a ten-year-old boy, who was driving McElwain with rope lines, "playing horse."

The heavy stage wagon was slowing from the side of the pavement in the street, when the horse, named Melrose, lost control and ran into the crowd, striking and trampling the children as he went. One of the boys, George McElwain, was thrown from the wagon and landed on his head, and another, Albert Gatten, was run over and left lying on the ground.

When a court officer stepped to a tank twenty feet away to get a drink of water for him, the horse, named Melrose, turned and ran toward him, and, with a snort, ran into the officer's chest, and, with a snort, ran into the officer's chest, and, with a snort, ran into the officer's chest.

BURNS TO DEATH. SAVING LITTLE GIRL. PORTLAND, Me., May 12.—In saving the life of the little granddaughter, Mrs. Martha Allen of South Portland, seventy years of age, was killed by a runaway horse today. The horse, named Melrose, was driven by a man, and was running through the crowded street, when it was struck by a car, and the driver was killed.

RESIGNS PRESIDENCY OF DARTMOUTH

Dr. William J. Tucker Ends Long and Unceasing Labors at Hanover.

TELLS OF LOVE FOR HOME

Special to the Boston American, HANOVER, N. H., May 12.—The formal announcement today of the resignation of William J. Tucker as President of Dartmouth College has caused surprise and interest here. At college reports it was first learned that President Tucker had decided to relinquish his post owing to ill health. He will take a vacation at once, but will return to the Fall and continue his duties until a successor has been appointed. John K. Lee will be acting president in the interim.

Weakness of the heart and general debility caused by long and faithful application to the arduous duties of a president are given as the chief reasons of Dr. Tucker's resignation.

President Tucker's administration of Dartmouth College has made the most successful record in its history. In the past four years has been a period of unusual prosperity. In 1893 there were but 215 students in the college. Today there are 450, of whom 200 are from Massachusetts. In the thirteen years 1893-1906, have graduated from the college, and at advanced and honorary degrees have been conferred.

Dr. Tucker's unceasing labors among the graduates of the college have resulted in the founding of powerful organizations throughout the country and brought lasting wealth and prestige upon the college. He has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Museum, the University of Wisconsin, the University of California, and the University of Michigan.

Dr. Tucker's resignation was a surprise to many. He has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Museum, the University of Wisconsin, the University of California, and the University of Michigan.

TRUSTEES SILENT AS TO SUCCESSOR OF DR. TUCKER

A number of prominent Dartmouth graduates of Boston were interviewed today on the question of the possible successor of President Tucker. Not one of them could give a definite idea as to who would be chosen. The trustees of the college are expected to meet in the near future to discuss the matter.

GOLDIE NEILL BRAVELY FACES TRIAL FOR LIFE

FAIR ACTRESS-MODEL, ACCUSED OF SLAYING HUSBAND, TO-MORROW MEETS ORDEAL.

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., May 12.—"Goldie" Neill, former actress-model, accused of killing her husband, James Neill, at the Greenwich Hotel on December 11, will be called to the bar to-morrow to answer for her alleged crime. It is expected a jury can be secured within two days.

Armed with an alleged confession from her husband, that she killed him by plunging a nail into his eye, Goldie Neill is expected to be in court to-morrow. The defense promises to be most elaborate.

Defense Similar to Thaw's. It will outline the sad story of the unfortunate actress's life. In some respects it will follow the lines of defense in the trial of Harry Thaw. The tale will relate the life of a woman who is said to have been the victim of the worst persecution.

COREY WEDS AT MIDNIGHT, BUT MINISTERS FROWN

Steel King Unable to Secure Pastor to Marry Him to Miss Gilman.

By Boston American Special Wire.
NEW YORK, May 12.—Although he is to lead Mabelle Gilman to the altar at 12:30 a. m. tomorrow, William Corey has not succeeded today in getting a regularly ordained minister to perform the marriage ceremony.

Still, it was decided positively at the Hotel Gotham, on the authority of Mr. Gilman and Mr. Corey, that the wedding would take place as arranged.

Due to the scandal caused by Mr. Corey's divorce, not only Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist ministers have refused to take the bride, but the congregation may be obliged to wait some time to get a minister of an alternative denomination. It is known that Mr. Corey asked many New York pastors to officiate, and was met with polite but firm declinations.

Relative Arrive for Wedding.
Perhaps the decided stand taken by Bishop Burgess of Long Island influenced them. The bishop said that a marriage of a divorced man could never take place in his diocese. The general tendency of the Episcopal church has been to make the rule more stringent recently, and apparently Mr. Corey and Miss Gilman are living up to the spirit of the law. Father and mother of the bridegroom, Ada Corey and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Riggs, of New York, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. A. A. Thomas of McKimpton, Pa., and Mrs. Gilman were in the city today and called on Miss Gilman at the Hotel Gotham.

Twenty-three Guests.
The wedding will take place in the "Royal suite" on the first floor of the Hotel Gotham.

Twenty-three guests will be present, most of them members of the immediate families of Mr. Corey and Miss Gilman. Some of the most famous of the immediate families will also be present. The wedding will be given by the bridegroom. The ceremony will be given by the bridegroom. The ceremony will be given by the bridegroom.

Wedding Gun Secret.
Miss Gilman's wedding gown will be of the traditional white satin, although the details have been carefully hidden. Asked about it yesterday she said, "nothing."

"That is my secret, and one I am going to keep."

Neither Mr. Corey nor Miss Gilman have been working under any special conditions. They are both in the city today.

In the afternoon, and all went out to dinner to the hotel. Miss Shaw was with them each time. Many rural offerings reached the Gilman apartments in the city yesterday. One was a large box of flowers, said to have been sent by a steel magnate who is now on the sea.

MILLS FIRST GET CANDIDATE FOR SINGING

Identifies His Picture in Group; Others Follow Closely After.

The earliest rush began bright and early at the BOSTON AMERICAN office today.

The "rush" was of people claiming that they were the originals of the picture of the BOSTON AMERICAN, which was published in yesterday's issue of the BOSTON AMERICAN.

The first one on the desk today was Miss Catherine Ford, a Hingham, whose number at the Boston postoffice is 101, the first at No. 31 Gould street, Malden, and his mail collection note is along the Tremont street shopping district.

Spied His Own Face.
Mr. Hilditch was traveling to Lowell yesterday morning, reading the BOSTON AMERICAN. When he saw the face of the man in the picture, he was startled.

"I guess I said one that I'd right," said Mr. Hilditch with a grin today as he identified himself in the BOSTON AMERICAN. "I was a home and family man in Malden, and so money will be fairly around the house."

He was followed by others who thought they were the originals of the picture. During the middle of the morning, Mr. Hilditch was followed by others who thought they were the originals of the picture.
